The Groton Public Library provides computers for a variety of uses from accessing the internet and online databases to word processing. The library cannot be held responsible for content accessed on the internet, as not all internet sources provide factually accurate, complete, or up-to-date information.

1. Anyone may sign in to use the library's computers at the Reference Desk.
2. Computers in the Children's Room are only for the use of children up to Grade 5 and their parent or caregiver. Children under the age of 6 must be under the direct supervision of a parent or caregiver when using a general computer.
3. Anyone may use a library computer for one half-hour per day and if, at the end of the half-hour, there is no one waiting, he/she may continue using it until someone else requests it. Reservations may be made in advance, and they will be held until 10 minutes after the reserved starting time.
4. Changing settings or otherwise modifying a library computer's configuration is not permitted.
5. Unethical or illegal use of computers or other electronic devices in the library, and/or accessing obscene material as defined by M.G.L. c. 272, § 31*, is prohibited. Users in violation of this policy will have their privileges suspended.
6. Computer users must be respectful of others. Disruptive or disrespectful behavior will result in a suspension of library computer use privileges or removal from the library. Headphones are available at each computer.
7. Content filters will not be installed on any GPL computer systems. When a child uses a computer the parent or caregiver is responsible for overseeing what is accessed.
8. Printing cost: the first 3 black and white pages are free; each additional page is 10 cents and 25 cents for color printing (no free color printing).
