ADULTS	5-11

April 19: Boom Chick Trio

Rooted in equal parts hot swing, snarky songwriting, and lyrical storytelling, this energetic trio of virtuoso bass, violin, and guitar, and vocal three-part harmonies will transport you to a speakeasy somewhere in time. You might not be able to sit still in your seat, and you'll probably have a smile on your face most of the show!

May 17: Rule of Two

Although Rule of Two is a duo, they have the sound of a full band with the help of homemade samples and looping equipment. They cover an extensive variety of popular music spanning from the 1960s to today's pop hits.

Made possible by a grant from the Town of Groton's Lecture Fund.

GROTON READS 2026

TEEN VOLUNTEERS

If you love GPL and GPL programs, help advise and assist the Teen Librarian by serving on our Young Adult Advisory Council. It's a great way to earn volunteer hours! We meet once a month on Wednesdays, 6-7 pm, in person with Zoom option. Mar. 25, Apr. 29, and May 27. Grades 6-12. Contact teens@gpl.org for info or for other opportunities.

ADULT EVENTS

Virtual events hosted by partner libraries are listed on page 9.

Registration for smaller, higher demand programs opens Tuesday, Feb. 24 at 10 am.

Queen Boudica with Bill Thierfelder, Tuesday, March 3 at 7 pm on ZOOM

Boudica remains one of the most remarkable leaders in Western History. She slaughtered a Roman army. She torched Londinium, leaving a charred layer almost half a meter thick that can still be traced under modern London. Who was she? Her story is guaranteed to inspire.

*Felt a Bunny with Rachel Benson, Thursday, March 5 at 7 pm IN PERSON. For Adults only.

Creating a needle felted project with talented fiber artist Rachel Benson is a joy and a breeze!

*Bob Pine Geology Walk with Groton Conservation Trust, Saturday, March 7 at 9 am OFF-SITE

Bob Pine is well known for his "Gift of the Glaciers" presentation about geology in Groton. This walk takes you outside to see how the geology and ecology of Groton impacts our landscape.

*Daytime DIY with Kimberly Stoney, Tuesday, March 10 at 1 pm IN PERSON

Create a custom tote bag using easy, approachable silk screen stencil techniques. In this class, you'll design a bold but simple image and learn how to print it onto fabric using water-based inks. No prior experience needed.

Fighting Back: Stories from The Nature Conservancy's Work on Elm, Chestnut, and Other Trees in Peril, Tuesday, March 10 at 7 pm on ZOOM

The stories that make up North Woods often use a particular tree as their anchor. With their ability to live for hundreds of years, changes that spread out over several human lifetimes can occur within the lifetime of a single tree—and can sometimes outpace the ability of the tree to adapt to new conditions. Panelists from The Nature Conservancy will share stories about their work with iconic species such as American chestnut and elm across New England.

Native People & English Settlers in Colonial New England, Wednesday, March 11 at 2 pm IN PERSON

What stories shaped New England identities in the 17th and 18th centuries? In this compelling performance, storyteller and historian Jo Radner weaves Native American oral traditions with tales from her own ancestors to explore the complex colonial "middle ground," where settlers and Native peoples saw each other as neighbors and enemies, kin and outsiders.

“... one might subtract all matter but the apple tree and still see, in what remained, the contours of the world.”
—from North Woods by Daniel Mason

Overheard in the Orchard with Linda Hoffman and Ellen Harasimowicz, Thursday, March 12 at 7 pm IN PERSON

Join artist, writer, and organic apple orchardist Linda Hoffman and fine art photographer Ellen Harasimowicz as they discuss their new collaborative book, Overheard in the Orchard. After this evening you will understand why Daniel Mason's words (above) are so true.

*Wildflower Embroidery Workshop, Saturday, March 14 at 10:30 am IN PERSON

My Darling Threads will teach basic embroidery stitches while you create a small wildflower design to take home. Each student will be provided with a handout to follow along with and have the opportunity for one-on-one assistance when needed. Be sure to bring reading glasses if you use them!

Rethinking Our Relationship with Plants: Navigating Uncertainty, Sat. March 14 at 2:30 pm IN PERSON

Molly Janicki will lead this exploration of how conventional gardening practices—from chemical inputs to an over-reliance on non-native plants—contribute to environmental instability. Participants will learn how to read their land, understand the "language" of plants, and use nature-inspired solutions to common gardening challenges.

Bold Women of the Revolutionary Era: Who Tells Their Stories? Monday, March 2, at 7 pm on ZOOM

In this engaging conversation, award-winning author Nancy Rubin Stuart and Jessie Steigerwald, President of LexSeeHer, will highlight the courageous women of the Revolutionary era whose stories have often been overlooked. Drawing from her acclaimed research and storytelling, Nancy brings these heroines vividly to life, revealing the complexities of their choices and the lasting impact of their actions.

Adventures in Spring Gardening with Judith Taylor of Seeds2Plate,

Thursday, April 2 at 7 pm on ZOOM

Growing your own food is a rewarding and tasty way to spend a summer in your yard. It's also a good way to reduce your grocery bills and provide food for your family in uncertain times. This class covers step by step "how-to's" for selecting, preparing and planting a garden site, and provides tips and tricks for making your garden adventures a success!

Ren (Renaissance) Faires: What's the Charm? Monday, April 27 at 7 pm on ZOOM.

Jonathan Crocker, an Art, Drama, and History Teacher, has been involved in Ren Theatre for decades. He will share about why Ren Faires have become more popular, how they are so inclusive, and how they bring out the knight/damsel/jester in so many of us. We'll learn a bit about the history but more who Ren Faires have evolved and become places of play, friendship, learning, and joy.

From Tiffany to Chihuly: Masters of Glass Art with Culturally Curious. Thursday, April 30 at 7 pm on ZOOM.

Discover the breathtaking world where molten sand becomes luminous art—we will consider Louis Comfort Tiffany's jewel-toned stained glass windows, Dale Chihuly's explosive blown glass sculptures, and Dan Dailey's whimsical figurative pieces. Jane Oneail will illuminate the history and technique behind these ethereal forms, showcasing how fire, breath, and imagination combine to create some of the most spectacular and ethereal art forms known to humanity.
